Federation of Integrated Conflict Management

Traditional ways of experiencing and consuming everything in our life has changed drastically with the advent of internet and an explosion in new technology. In this modern connected world, we all are experiencing new ways of consumption. From Uber to BnB and from Amazon to Netflix and Expedia, innovation and aggregation has become the new norm.

While the world is enjoying the new ways of consumption, nothing has much changed in the dispute resolution industry. With an uncertainty and risk to business at every step, the world desperately needs a modern dispute resolution ecosystem that understands and delivers to the needs of modern world consumers.

Federation of Integrated Conflict Management is developing the modern world dispute resolution ecosystem - addressing the pain point of finding solutions, services and resources for quick and controlled dispute resolution. Identifying and appointing the most appropriate Neutrals and adopt best suited procedures for the resolution of international commercial disputes.

International Commercial Disputes Tribunal - ICDT

The Finest and Most Credible
Dispute Resolvers for your Success.

2019-20

A part of “Global Dispute Resolution Ecosystem” developed and managed by FICM, ICDT is the go-to-place of international business community for prevention and resolution of international commercial disputes under its modern laws and procedures.

ICDT maintains an updated roster of impartial and credible Neutrals in virtually every specialization from over 30 countries around the world.

Parties in international transaction prefer ICDT as their institution of choice in dispute resolution clauses for dealing with unprecedented and unfortunate situations of disagreements and complex disputes.

ICDT has two distinct functions - appointment of Neutrals (finest and most credible dispute resolvers) and administration of disputes under ICDT and UNICITRAL model laws and procedures.

Anyone can appoint ICDT Neutrals - individuals, corporations, law firms and other dispute resolution bodies for the Ad-Hoc or Institutional dispute resolution process under various institutional rules and procedures. From international small traders and large corporations with complex market disputes and companies filing claims in bulk, to the individuals filing one-off claims, ICDT Neutrals deliver success.

For the administration of disputes, ICDT involves full range of methods for settling disputes more swiftly, at less cost - Including a number of options: a dispassionate evaluation of the dispute by experienced case managers, followed by negotiation, conciliation, mediation or a tailored hearing to resolve the issues on which the parties remain in dispute. These options are designed to minimize combative hearings and help parties settle their disputes with the minimum of stress and acrimony, whether they are members of the public or multi-national corporations.

Geared to take on the challenges of the modern world.

- We are part of an always evolving transnational disputes system that is getting revered for its innovation, aggregation and digital transformation.
- We embrace new procedures, approaches and reformed processes and are continuously creating new systems for delivering solutions to the modern world.
- We are building simpler consumer-focused models. Our systems are easier to use for everyone facing complex disputes, and are equally proportionate in resolving simpler disputes.
- Under our model, cases are handled faster and in a more convenient way, improving the experience for everyone making and defending claims.
- From virtual hearings, online decision making, early evaluation, mediation and conciliation to the traditional face-to-face hearing, our Neutrals and systems deliver better quality, faster and less stressful resolution of claims.
- We use specially trained case officers to handle basic case management and case progression. Our unique approach incorporates less combative methods for disputes to be resolved.
- Neutrals use online, virtual and traditional hearings that best meet the circumstances of the case. Enabling lawyers, parties and witnesses to participate in hearings on telephone and via video conferencing.
- Our approach to dispute resolution is easily understandable by non-lawyers, helping ordinary business people resolve their issues in a low-key way, without needing expensive legal representation to help them understand what to do.

Hearing / Meeting Venues

Large buildings and hearing centers at one central place are no more relevant in this modern connected world. Rather use of hearing centers will be diminishing by the day as we move into a connected digital world.

We have a list of several hundred venues around the world that will make hearings or mediation conferences much easier and cost effective for everyone. Avoiding long travel time and costs, including inconvenience of a strange land at some time.

ICDT Dispute Resolution Rules and Procedures

We are constantly establishing an infrastructure of laws, rules and procedures that are aimed at promoting certainty and consistency and expanding the options available to parties for the resolution of international commercial disputes.

Conventional arbitration process and proceedings can not be the means to an end to find resolutions. Comprehensive stepped and integrated procedures and the choice of most appropriate Neutrals, who handle each process, are the key to success of parties in disputes.

The innovative, flexible and always evolving rules and procedures are the mainstay of ICDT. These rules and procedures help disputing parties of various hues to reach a conclusive finality of their disputes with least pain as compared to the traditional procedures adopted by institutions.

THE ICDDT NEUTRALS

Joining the ICDT as a Neutral

ICDT is the international dispute resolution arm of FICM, the world's leading provider of private dispute avoidance, conflict management, and dispute resolution services.

ICDT Panel membership is composed of specialists in international dispute resolution from around the world. This geographically diverse group is made up of highly regarded professionals from the business and legal communities.

Joining the ICDT Panel as a Representative member is limited to only maximum ten representations from each region, although any number of primary or associate members can join ICDT.

Both internal (FICM Executive Staff) and external review committees screen candidates for their case management skills, substantive expertise, commitment, ethics, training, and suitability to ICDT. Panel members are required to have achieved academic and professional qualifications that mark them as leaders in their respective fields.

FICM is committed to recruiting only the most credible and exceptional Neutrals – possessing human skills, judicial capacity, extensive industry knowledge, experience and passion for consensual resolution practice.

Parties to cases select Neutrals through a strike and rank process from lists provided by FICM or by using an online platform that allows parties to search the entire FICM Roster that consists of hundreds of Neutrals from different jurisdictions.

FICM Roster consists of preferred membership category “Representative members” who are in most preferred, or featured lists while associate members are listed in rosters to be used at the time of wider search for a neutral or a tribunal.

Candidates should consider and be aware that there are costs and obligations associated with being a “Representative Member” of the FICM Roster, which include an annual fee of USD 118 to underwrite the administrative and promotional cost of services provided to roster members.

Therefore, candidates who are not likely to be selected by parties to serve on cases should not be on the roster if they find the annual cost of USD 118 and requirements of being on the roster unacceptable.
